Bing Crosby arrived in town yesterday to head up the greatest galaxy of stars in the history of his National Pro-Amateur golf championship.

The 300 players, 150 professionals and 150 amateurs, all play the three courses the first three days. Then on Sunday the low 60 teams play Pebble Beach to wind up the 72 hole tournament. The finals will be televised nation wide over ABC-TV from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock on Sunday.

Bob Hope is playing, as are George Gobel, Tennessee Ernie Ford, James Garner, Guy Madison, Fred MacMurray, Gordon McRae, Johnny Weissmuller and many other stars.

Bing Crosby will again back the

Planners Postpone Decision On Fenton Block Gas Pumps

Carmel planning commissioners yesterday afternoon found themselves sitting as a jury while attorneys argued for and against a gas station as an accessory use at the proposed Fenton Plaza parking garage.

Thomas Montgomery representing Dale Leidig, George Walker speaking for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig and Mrs. Mary Gould, were against the gas pumps. A plea for the pumps was entered by attorney Lewis Fenton, for Plaza developer Leslie C. Fenton.

Admiral C. W. Fisher, president of the Citizens Committee, read this group's resolution against the pumps. John Payne of South Carmel Hills endorsed the opposition. City Attorney John Morse, Building Inspector Floyd Adams and City Clerk Larry Rose were called upon to clarify issues. Commissioners, at the end of the debate, decided to continue the matter until their regular session next week. They want time to reflect on the opinions presented yesterday.

Lewis Fenton spoke first. He stated that the proposed two-story Plaza structure was a concrete parking garage. The suggested service station was purely an access-

Murray Announces Children's Concert At Sunset, Feb. 6

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will present its annual free concert for young people on Saturday morning, February 6, at 9:30 o'clock in Sunset School Auditorium.

The young audience will hear a program especially prepared by Conductor Earl Murray to illustrate a variety of musical styles and periods. Included on the program, planned for students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grade levels, will be short works by Bach, Mozart, de Falla, Vaughn Williams and Aaron Copland.

This year, conductor Murray has

First Move Tues. To Break Down Billboard Law

The outdoor advertising companies open their battle to break down Monterey County's billboard ordinance when the county planning commission meets Tuesday in Supervisors Chambers, County Courthouse, Salinas.

First item on the agenda, set for 9:00 o'clock in the morning, is the billboard companies' proposal for modifying the five-year-old ordinance in such a way that 85 percent of the billboards they are required to remove by July 1 would be allowed to remain, and the way opened to put up new boards in non-commercial zones.

There will be representatives from the Northern California Council of Outdoor Advertising to support the changes, originally proposed by Foster and Kleiser and endorsed by Pacific Coast Display Co., National Advertisers, and Paris Signs. One company is "in accord" with the Foster and Kleiser in general but has some additional recommendations.

They are the powers which have consistently defeated proposed billboard control legislation in Sacramento.

In opposition to the professional talent that will represent the billboard companies, representatives of Carmel organizations and individual citizens, will attend to urge that the planning commission sustain the ordinance without change. Among them will be: State Senator Fred Farr; City Councilman Tom May, appointed by Mayor John Chitwood to represent the city; Carmel Unincorporated, represented by Mrs. Frances Sweetney and Mrs. Gordon Reid; Carmel Citizens Committee by Admiral C. W. Fisher; a representative of the Carmel Business Association yet to be appointed.

Carmel Rotary has passed a resolution which has been mailed to the county planning commission. The Lobos League and Nature Conservancy have sent letters.

The county-wide Citizens Planning Association will be represented.

The county ordinance permits billboards only in industrial and commercial areas. Non-conforming billboards, that is, those existing throughout the county in unclassified, agriculture and other non-commercial zones at the time the ordinance was passed were given five years to amortize the investment of their owners. The five year period expires July 1.

Representatives of Foster and Kleiser pointed out to the planning commission at its December meeting that they are now fighting the Marin County billboard ordinance in court and implied that Monterey County could expect the same action if it wasn't prepared to rewrite its zoning ordinance along the lines suggested by Foster and Kleiser.

Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, whose billboard legislation was blocked in Sacramento by the outdoor advertising interests' lobby, commented yesterday:

"I hope the planning commission doesn't yield an inch. Let the billboard people sue. We have a very competent legal staff in this county. These billboard fellows say in Washington, 'let the states regulate the billboards', then come to us in Sacramento and say, 'let the counties regulate the billboards,' and then they try to bust the county ordinances."

Curious Editor Snowed, Too Many H.S. Students Read Too Many Books

When you were three feet high, did you ever make a bunny-sized nest in the grass on Holy Saturday evening and find on Easter morning that you should have built it to accommodate an elephant?

Until we can engage Combined Carmel Precinct A election board to tally the returns, impressions are all we shall be able to give on the results of the Pine Cone Survey On What The Carmel High School Students Read for Pleasure in 1959.

Mostly they read War and Peace, Don't Pick the Daisies, and Peyton Place.

They also read Red Badge of Courage and Green Mansions. Erle Stanley Gardner's dick stories, and Lloyd C. Douglas' sentimental novels were listed endlessly. Maybe Red Badge outscored Peyton Place. I have in hand 492 individual student book lists, anonymous by request, except for one control group of 29; some of the students listed as many as 50 books, read this year; some as few as three. One youngster's list of three books was: Little Women, Gene Stratton Porter's Girl of the Limberlost, and Peyton Place.

There are surprises. Would you expect to find Zane Grey, Owen Wister's Virginian, and the "bad book" of another generation, E. M. Hull's Sheik, still being read? They must be raiding their parents' bookshelves.

Of the bestsellers that have arrived on the paperback book racks, World of Suzie Wong, Diary of Anne Frank, The Young Lions, are much in evidence on the lists. Jane Eyre and Wuthering Heights pop up consistently.

One student listed Well of Loneliness.

There are a few Lady Chatterly's Lovers. —W. C.

Autograph Party Jan. 28 At The Book Worm For Fr. "Sandy" Sandercock

BY HARRIET ROBERTS

There has not been an autograph party in Carmel for a long time. One will occur at The Book Worm (east side of Dolores near Sixth Street) Thursday, January 28. The book to be autographed is The Battle of the Cross, the author the Reverend Kenneth L. Sandercock, the Vicar (until 1959) of St. James' Episcopal Church in Monterey. "Father Sandy," as his devoted parishioners call him, will be at the Book Worm from 3:00 to 5:30 o'clock to meet his many friends and autograph copies of his book. It is published by Morehouse Barlow (originally Morehouse-Gorham) of New York, the price is $1.25.

Father Sandercock was born in the "delectable Duchy" of Cornwall in England. His first cure of souls was in the diocese of Qu'Appelle in Western Canada, just under the Arctic Circle, so remote that there were no roads, it could only be reached by plane. There he went with his young wife and baby son to minister to the Indians. In 1950 he came to the Diocese of California, as Vicar of St. David's Church, Pittsburg. He was then

Vicar of St. James', Monterey, for nearly five years. During that time the old St. James' on Pacific Street, (the oldest Protestant Church on the Monterey Peninsula) became too small for its growing congregation. So the new church was built at the corner of Franklin and High Streets and the top floor of the Vicarage was opened as a Social Center for men of the armed forces. His friends will not soon forget Fr. Sandy staining the rafters and, with his Warden, sawing and nailing the Philippine mahogany which lines walls of the new St. James', while the women sanded and varnished

CROSBY $50,000 PRO-AM GOLF TOURNAMENT UNDERWAY TODAY

With three hundred of the best amateur and professional golfers teeing off at Pebble Beach, Cypress Point, and the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, the 19th Annual Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament swings out today for a four-day stand on the Monterey Peninsula.

Most of the proceeds from the fun-laden Crosby Clambake are ticketed for charity with youth centers and other youth movements receiving most of the benefits. As in past years, the play on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will be over the three Peninsula courses with the top 60 pro-am teams and professionals with a chance to finish in the money tackling Pebble Beach layout in Sunday's final round. Last year's winning pro-am team of Art Wall and Charles Coe will again pair up to defend their title with Wall also trying for a repeat win in the professional division. Wall shot a 279 for the 72-hole grind to win the '59 Crosby pro division and teamed up with Coe for a 252 to win the pro-am section.

This year's Crosby is more glamorous than ever with a star-studded cast of screen and television celebrities, topflight figures in the sports world, and a host of business tycoons who also swing a pretty sharp stick. Taking their swings for sweet charity will be such noted entertainers as Bob Hope, Phil Harris, Desi Arnaz, Brother Bob Crosby, sons Philip and Lin Crosby, Tennessee Ernie Ford, George Gobel, James "Maverick" Garner, Dean Martin, Guy Madison, Curt Massey, Ray Milland, Fred Murray, Gordon McRae, Dennis Morgan, Buddy Rogers, Randolph Scott, Johnny Weissmuller, Don Cherry, and many others.

Easy to identify by their flat swing, short backswing, and colorful language will be such outstanding baseball stars as Lefty O'Doul, a pro-am winner with Bill Nary in 1949, Bill Rigney, Jackie Jensen, Vern Stephens, Bob Lemon, Ralph Kiner, and Allie Reynolds. Football is represented by Ernie Nevers, Pete Elliott, Jon Arnett, Frank Albert, Marshall Duffield, Bones Hamilton, Bob Reynolds, Julie Beskos, and pro John Brodie. Boxing's contribution to the Crosby is Jimmy McClarnin, one of the most popular fighters of all time.

With a well-stocked larder of hot dogs, coffee, candy, and soft drinks, Carmel Youth Center director Jack (Short Hitter) Giles and his hard-working teen-agers will cover the MPCC and Pebble Beach courses to take care of the snack needs of the galleryites. The Carmel Youth Center was realized through generous contributions from the Crosby Tournament and is considered one of the model Youth Centers on the West Coast.

Tickets for the Crosby go for $3.00 Thursday and Friday, and $4.00 Saturday and Sunday. For the last two days there is a $6.00 ticket. A season ticket is $10.00. There is a $3.00 season ticket for soldiers in uniform. Tickets may be secured at several agencies in Carmel, Monterey, and Pacific Grove or may be purchased at the gates leading into Del Monte Forest.

CARMEL CAGERS AT P. G. FRIDAY NIGHT

Arch-rival Pacific Grove provides the opposition for the Carmel High basketball squads this Friday night and the winner of the varsity tilt will take a big step toward the B-division hoop title. At the present time, with one game remaining in the first half, there are four schools tied for first place with Live Oak and San Lorenzo having a race of their own to see who winds up in the cellar. As the records indicate, any member of the top four is capable of knocking off any other team in the leading quartet. In first half play so far, Gonzales clipped Pacific Grove Carmel edged Gonzales; King City topped Carmel; and Pacific Grove finished in front of the King City Mustangs. While the Padres and Breakers are having at it in the cozy little Pacific Grove pavilion, the King City and Gonzales quintets will have their own tie-breaker at the Mustang gym.

The Breaker-Padre fracas shapes up as a pretty even affair with the Carmel squad enjoying a definite rebound advantage and the Breakers having a slight edge in speed and outside shooting ability. Big man in the Pacific Grove attack is Mike Harris, a 6-5 rebound specialist who has also been leading the Breakers in the scoring department in recent games. In Barry Baskin, the Breakers boast the best set shot in the CCAL B-division and his running mate Bucky Boyns can also burn the net from outside the key. Carmel's big scorer is Russ Wise, a 6-4 senior, who can muscle them in from up close and hit with the soft jumper from the outside. Russ has been getting sturdy scoring support from center Toby Edson in recent games and this one-two scoring punch may be the answer for a win over the Breakers. Guards Mike Draper and Dave Fuller plus forward Chris Wilkin complete the Padre starting lineup.

Carmel's lightweight squad is still looking for its first league victory and the classy Pacific Grove lights present a pretty tough obstacle for Coach Hadley Hicks' crew. The Wavelets have won four straight in league competition and have scored big in every game so far this season. Coach Hicks' starting five for an all-out effort against the PG Babes will be Pete dePetra, Jim Miles, John Draper, Steve Fairfield, and John Odello.

In a 5:30 o'clock preliminary tussle, the Breaker and Padre junior-varsity fives will trade baskets in a contest which could be the best of the triple-header. Both teams have equal won-loss records for the season and the outcome of this one is a definite toss-up. Fred McGaughey and Butch Johnson are the big gunners in the PG attack while the Padre jayvees rely on Jim Brown, Scott Forbes, and Bob Little to light up the scoreboard.

KING CITY UPSETS PADRE HOOPSTERS

An inspired King City basketball squad parlayed the hot shooting of forward Jim Seaton with the brilliant all-round play of center Jim Giacomazzi for a 44-41 victory over league-leading Carmel last Friday night at the Carmel pavilion. The surprise win over the high-flying Padres gives the Mustangs a slice of the league lead and hands the Padres their first league loss in 14 games.

Coach Ernie Piper's spirited crew broke to a 30-21 halftime lead and served warning it would be a dangerous opponent on this particular night.

Coach Dan Yurkovich turned his charges loose with an all-court pressing defense in the second half and the Padres swiftly closed the gap to 37-35 at the end of the third period. At one point in the fourth heat, the game was deadlocked at 41-41 but the Mustangs picked up the clinching points with a minute to go and stalled out the final seconds for the big win.

Although well-surrounded by the Mustang sagging defense, Russ Wise topped the Padre scorers with 12 points and played a sturdy game around the boards. Scrappy Mike Draper was the floor leader for the Carmel gang and he chipped in with vital points when it appeared the Mustangs might make a runaway of the game.

Carmel's lightweight unit enjoyed a short-lived 10-6 first quarter lead which was soon dissipated (Continued on Page Three)

Know The Challenge Mrs. Roosevelt Says In Press Conference

Spontaneous handclapping greeted Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt when she stepped off a plane at the airport on Saturday afternoon. The several hundred Peninsula persons who applauded her had waited for nearly an hour for her delayed plane. Frederick Huber, president of Monterey Peninsula College, after welcoming her to the Peninsula, led her through the airport crowd for a press conference in the board room. Cameras clicked and soldiers, lined up for an Army flight to a new station in New Jersey, turned smiling faces towards the former first lady. Other soldiers gathered to see her pass.

Apparently a little deaf, Mrs. Roosevelt requested that newsmen speak up when they asked questions, which she answered with quiet facility and keen interest. She smiled more warmly when a young girl asked what advice she had for high school and college students. "Students should not be content to get by but work to develop themselves to the limit of their capacities in order to be prepared to take their places in an exciting and adventurous time; to meet the world situation," was Mrs. Roosevelt's answer.

The law of the future, she stated, is that the Russians desire a Communist world. Krushchev openly admits this is his objective, Mrs. Roosevelt pointed out. She advocated that Americans, both young and old, be made aware of the fact that what we are really "up against" in the world today is an overall struggle to win the non-committed areas of the world.

"The people of the United States have always been ready and never been known to fail any challenge," Mrs. Roosevelt emphasized, "but they must know what it is."

Following the press conference, Mrs. Roosevelt drove with President Huber through the MPC campus to her hotel, then around the Peninsula including Carmel. In the evening 3,000 persons endeavored to hear her speak about Russia at the college armory which has a capacity of 900.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Peninsula talk was the last of ten on a lecture tour. She left Sunday morning for San Francisco and a jet flight to New York.

Hollenbeck, Payne Now Partners In Irving Lundborg Co.

Admission of Rollo H. Payne and Fred E. Hollenbeck to the firm as general partners is announced today by Irving Lundborg & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange and Pacific Coast Stock Exchange. They will continue to be resident in the Carmel Office of the San Francisco-headquartered investment banking firm.

Both newly admitted partners have been identified with the Lundborg organization for a number of years.

Payne had been executive of a national food concern for 13 years prior to World War II. In four years of service he became a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve. Thereafter he developed small-business operations on the Monterey Peninsula.

Partner in an international food brokerage firm in Oakland for 15 years, Hollenbeck sold his interest in 1947 and moved to the Monterey Peninsula.

Civic and other activities of Payne include the presidency of

14 Composers Attend First Meeting Of Composers' Forum

Attending the newly organized Composers' Forum at the Studio of Mr. Gilbert Boyer Monday evening were 14 composers of this area. This first meeting of Composers' Forum was sponsored by the Carmel Chamber Music Society to encourage composers of this area to listen to each other's compositions and discuss mutual problems, to promote performances of their works locally and encourage and assist them in any way possible.

Composers attending the Forum were Mr. and Mrs. George Podbereski, Mr. Philippe H. Buhler, Mr. John Lenk, Mrs. Paul Thiele, Mrs. Hascal Stewart, Mrs. Sage Spicer, Mrs. K. V. Belknap, Mrs. Virginia Laurenti, Mrs. Dee Olivetti, Mr. Glenn Kovacevich, and his father. (At the Forum recent musical compositions by the above composers were either played on the piano or on recordings.) Other composers not able to attend but expressing an interest by telephone were Mr. Jerald Slavich, Mr. Lorell McCann, Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Louise Cardeiro Boyer. Composers were surprised and enthusiastic about the number working in music composition in this area and the fine quality of their work.

Mr. Boyer announced plans for the presentation of a composition by a local composer to be presented during this Chamber Music Season. The work to be played will be chosen from the Composers' Forum group by an audition committee. Also the announcement of the Composers' Forum of San Francisco with concerts on February 19, March 18, and April 1, at the Century Club was made. Mr. Philippe Buhler was appointed chairman of the next meeting to be held in February at the Buhler residence in Pacific Grove. Any composers interested in attending this Forum may telephone Mr. Boyer, Mayfair 4-3347.

Payne belongs to the Masonic Lodge, Hi-Twelve, American Legion, and Monterey Peninsula Country Club, of which Hollenbeck is also a member.

SATURDAY FIRE DAMAGES CARMEL RESIDENCE

Fire, believed to have started from a floor furnace, caused damage approximately of $12,000 to a home rented by Robert K. Dorsey, on Saturday afternoon. The house is situated on Monte Verde Street between Twelfth and Thirteenth Avenues.

The occupants left the premises for two hours. When they returned they found their home was almost consumed.

Carmel volunteer firemen and three pieces of equipment contained the blaze to the dwelling which was badly involved when they answered a call at 12:36 o'clock. Owner of the house is Heaton H. Randall of Danville.

in the second heat. Hitting a cold shooting streak in the second period, Carmel put only 3 points on the board and the visitors were in front, 17 to 13, at the halftime intermission. Steady shooting by Pete dePetra, John Draper, and Steve Fairfield kept the Padre Babes in contention during the second half but the Pony squad hung on for its first win of the season.

An outmanned King City junior-varsity squad was no match for the veteran Carmel jayvee quintet which notched its fourth victory of the season. Bartley Blout, Jim Brown, Scott Forbes, Bob Little, and Frank Mayo put on a consistent shooting exhibition to put the game away early in the third quarter. The final score read, 34 to 22, but it was 32-10 when the Padre starters left the court at the end of the third quarter.

More league action for all three Padre teams tomorrow night when they invade the PG gym for a triple-header. Jayvee game at 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Grace C. Howden
P. O. Box 3433
Carmel-by-the-Sea, California
January 7, 1960

Mayor George Christopher
City Hall, San Francisco.
Dear Mr. Christopher:
Greetings and a Happy New Year to you and yours.

The last time I talked with you, you suggested my passing on an idea to the next Mayor. I was pleased to hear that you were so well liked that you were re-elected for another term of office.

I believe the idea at the time was for the landscape nurseries to promote "Hanging Gardens of San Francisco." At the moment the idea which I wish to pass on to you is far more important.

Over the radio, I heard of the meeting of ten Mayors in the east. You probably attended that meeting. The comment was that it was too early to discuss the problem of overpasses in their various cities.

On the contrary, it is almost too late to deal with that tremendous problem. As you, yourself, know, you are facing that problem in San Francisco right now, with the threat of destroying the beauty of the skyline of San Francisco.

If the Mayors across the nation will face this problem right now there may still be time to create a beautiful United States of America, by sinking all unsightly transportation and utilities below ground level.

Approaches to small towns and cities should be submerged to do away with the dangerous level crossings and unsightly areas of slum type shops surrounding railway stations. These stations should be planted with beautiful gardens and trees, instead of presenting to the traveling public a hideous area which is not necessary to have in any community. To avoid this the Mayor and the city council should arrange for proper town planning.

Now is the time to plan for a beautiful America which includes Canada, Mexico and all parts of North America.

Very Respectfully Yours
(Mrs.) Grace C. Howden.

Francis Heisler Heads Proposed Community Theatre

A small group selected from the meeting last Thursday at the Golden Bough met Sunday to organize the proposed Peninsula Community Theatre. Although working with the Golden Bough, the group hopes eventually to lease facilities. Until that time the organization will foster support of theatre on the Peninsula while learning how to operate an independent Community Theatre.

The first step Sunday was to elect temporary officers for this planning group. Francis Heisler and Charles Page, both Peninsula lawyers, were chosen respectively, chairman and vice-chairman. Mrs. Nicholas Zanides serves as secretary. Barney Laiolo was chosen treasurer, and those present contributed to meet expenses incurred during planning stages.

Although the proposed organization awaits the acceptance of the community at a mass meeting scheduled for 3:00 o'clock, February 7, the following committees were established and temporary chairmen selected: membership, Fritz Wurzmann; publicity, Dale Skillicorn; play selection, Douglas Zug; theatre school, Mrs. Anne Hardy. Several others present volunteered to help with committee work.

Once organized, the group discussed the problems facing them. In addition to the question of how to gain the support of the Peninsula, the organizational mechanics were probed. As a result, three alternative plans will be presented at the mass meeting in February—ideas relative to purpose, membership, and finances. Also study of the organizational precepts of several established Community Theatres throughout the country will be carried on during the next few weeks.

Realizing the work that must be done, it is asked that interested members of the Peninsula community who can contribute time get in touch with Peninsula Community Theatre, P. O. Box 3164, Carmel.

WALKER MAN OF THE YEAR

Attorney George C. Walker, president of the Monterey County Bar Association and a Carmel resident, was named Man of the Year last night by the Monterey Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Walker and his wife have four children. He decided to live in Carmel after completing Army service at Fort Ord. A partner of Judge Gordon Campbell until the later was elevated to the bench of the second Monterey Municipal Court, Mr. Walker maintains his practice of law in Monterey.

The concert will be repeated at 11:30 o'clock in the multi-use room at Monterey High School and at 3:00 o'clock in the Salinas High School auditorium.

The concerts will be open to students of both public and private schools. School busses will assist in transporting children to and from concerts; times and places of departures will be announced later.

The young people's concerts have been offered by the symphony each year since 1955 under the sponsorship of the Monterey Peninsula League, Inc. League members from the Peninsula and Salinas areas also serve as ushers for the concerts.

DEDICATION RECITAL MON. AT WAYFARER CHURCH

Mary Macdonald of Los Angeles, 18 years old, will play a program of Bach, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Tchaikovsky and Chopin selections at the Church of the Wayfarer on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The public is invited free of charge.

This is a dedication concert for the grand piano given to the Wayfarer Church by Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Swim. Miss Macdonald is the winner of the Musicians in the Making Audition and appears on their 1959-60 concert series.

CARMEL ARTISTS EXHIBIT AT HARTNELL COLLEGE LIBRARY

Eighteen paintings by members of the Carmel Art Association form an exhibition in the Hartnell College library which opened this week to remain through February 5.

Works include landscapes, abstracts, marine views and still life. The collection is the latest in a series of exhibits sponsored by the Hartnell Art Department and arranged by Leon Amyx.

The public is invited to view the collection at the college, 156 Homestead Avenue, Salinas, weekdays from 8:00 to 4:30 o'clock, and evenings from 6:30 to 9:00 o'clock Monday through Thursday.

Artists represented in the exhibit are Joe Ataide, Clarence

Bates, Jane Buffington, Louise Cardeiro, Sam Colburn, John Cunningham, R. Davey, Edith Dinkin, J. Feuerborn, Elliot Johnson Jr., J. Lapiere, Richard Lofton, Homer F. Levinson, Frank Meyer, F. M. Moore, Doris Rohr and Ann Rugh.

"Tomorrow, When I Awake, Or Think I Do, What Shall I Say Of Today" Studio Revives Waiting For Godot

By VIRGINIA SHAW

Samuel Beckett's spellbinding Waiting for Godot has been revived by director Richard Bailey for a limited run at The Studio; and if anything, the new production is more impressive than the 1958 premiere by the Forest Theater Guild which brought both Bailey and Beckett to the interested attention of Peninsula audiences.

In the interim, these audiences have had the chance to become more familiar with "avant-garde" theatre: excellent productions of Ionesco's The Lesson, The Bald Soprano and The Chairs and Beckett's later play Endgame—the latter three also directed by Bailey—have perhaps created greater understanding, or at least acceptance, of the experimental idiom.

Not that this makes Waiting for Godot any less an enigma: the play stirs the imagination and indignation of audiences now as it did at its first presentation in Paris seven years ago. Waiting for Godot is susceptible to as many interpretations as a Rorschach inkblot; its imagery seems drawn from the depths of the "collective unconscious," the timeless source of myth, fantasy, nightmare.

If the play can be summed up at all, it is probably best done by Vladimir—one of the two aimless derelicts who are its central characters—when he says "Tomorrow, when I wake, or think I do, what shall I say of today? That with Estragon my friend, at this place, until the fall of night, I waited for Godot? That Pozzo passed, with his carrier, and that he spoke to us? Probably. But in all that what truth will there be?"

That is the story, such as it is: two tramps, spinning out time in a blasted nowhere to a possible meeting with a never-identified someone named Godot, filling the void with trivial diversions, interrupted only by the appearance of a tyrant and his slave, and by a small boy who announces that Godot will not come today, but surely tomorrow.

Beckett frames this parable in dialog which moves through absurdity and bawdry to profundity and poetry; he is a master of gal-lows-humor. Its effect is simultaneously depressing and entertaining—and, in a production as fine as this one, memorably moving.

The cast is splendid. Richard Bailey surpasses himself not only in his meticulous directing, but in a virtuosic performance as the bullying, pompous Pozzo. He is matched by three veterans of the original cast, all of whom have worked subtle refinements in their earlier characterizations: Russ

Eddy as the childlike Gogo and Ron Bostwick as his more philosophical companion Didi each give star performances which play the full range from low vaudeville to high tragedy; and David Walton again evokes real pity and terror in his unforgettable portrayal of the menial, Lucky. (His electrifying verbal cadenza in the first act earned a spontaneous ovation at one of last week's performances.) Young Dan Matterson performs with composure and sensitivity as the frightened messenger from Godot.

An added flourish to the production is Gus Velletri's fine semi-abstract set decor, suggestive without being arty or intrusive. As in all Studio presentations, Reed Putnam's lighting and Maria Hallsted's costuming add much to the effective staging.

The Studio continues to aim high—and score high—in its contributions to the cultural scene. Waiting for Godot will continue to attract players and audiences for years to come; certainly it exemplifies the growing edge of expression not only in theatre, but in all contemporary arts.

Waiting for Godot plays tonight through Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock, and unless the run is extended, these will be the final performances. Those who saw the earlier production will find the second time around even more rewarding; anyone approaching it for the first time can anticipate a unique and challenging experience.

Walter Bunnell

Walter Eugene Bunnell, a former Carmel resident, died on January 13 in Reno, Nevada, after a long period of failing health.

Mr. Bunnell was born in Guilford, New York, on January 25, 1878. He was the former president of W. H. Hull advertising agency in New York City and lived in Pelham, New York, where he was active in civic affairs and served as mayor.

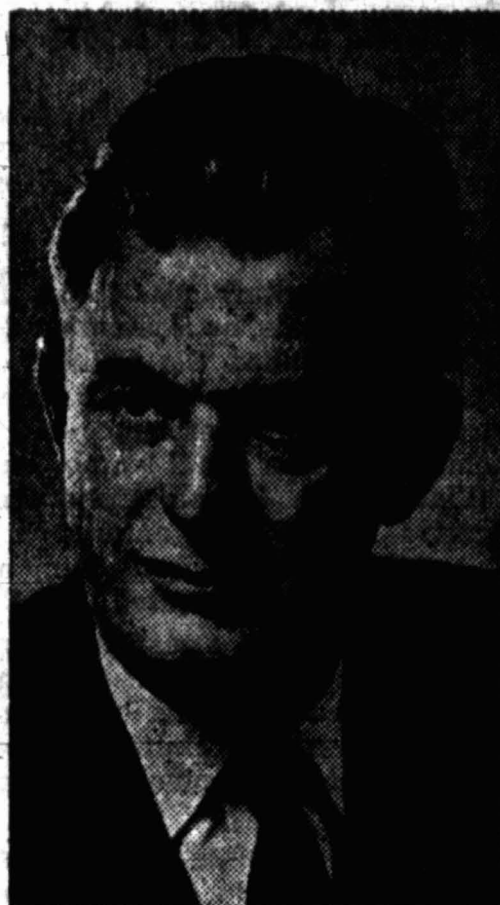

In 1952 Mr. Bunnell moved to Carmel. He took part in the work of All Saints' Episcopal Church

William F. Bryan, a Salinas attorney, has been selected as the Republican candidate to oppose incumbent Democrat Fred Farr for State Senator from Monterey County.

The choice was made last week by the Monterey County Republican Senatorial Committee.

Bryan was born in San Francisco on December 14, 1923, and has lived in Salinas since he was two years of age. He was graduated from Santa Clara University Law School in 1950, following service in the Army Air Corps during World War II as an instructor pilot. He flew a hundred combat missions in the Korean War. For his services he holds the Air Medal with clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

He is a member of the law firm

Parish. His wife, Edith Bentley Bunnell died in 1956.

Last November Mr. Bunnell moved to Reno to be near his daughter, Mrs. Robert P. Young.

Survivors, other than Mrs. Young, are a brother, Arthur L. Bunnell of Riverside; two nieces and nephews and several grand-nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Saturday in Reno. Committal services were this afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating. Inurnment followed in the family plot in El Carmelo Cemetery.

DESERT WINTER

*December winds are worrying the sand
Like playful hounds, while rolling tumbleweeds
In search of haven turn like giant beads
Across the dunes, a futile vagrant band.
At sunset burning streaks of flame which brand
The sky are turned to ash as day recedes
Into the past to let the dusk, that feeds
On darkness, dominate the silent land.*

*White winter's drifting feathers slowly fall
Like quiet messages of future peace,
To soothe and cover somber sun-scorched hills.
Zagueros bow before the winds which call
Night echoes back and wild folk find release
From lethargy and seek where hunger wills.*

*Down the docile street along curb-creases unroll rills of tears:
silent and steady weeping, one would call it.
Yet actually not the street herself to him, through pavement's young compliance.

She may well condone
this early gloom, and share it now, for sake of his exuberant sun returning.*

My thoughts are of her deeps tonight,
My dreams are of her mystery.*

*I watch the misty moon and Mars
Soar past the east Sierra slope,
And with them speeds my heart and hope,
Descending west on wings of stars.*

General Perkins

Brigadier General Robert Meredith Perkins (USA ret.) died on Friday morning in Fort Ord Hospital after a short illness. He had lived in Pebble Beach since 1947.

General Perkins was born in Norfolk, Virginia, on September 26, 1887. He attended the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and affiliated with Kappa Alpha fraternity. In 1909 he entered the United States Military Academy at West Point and graduated in 1913.

A career in the Coast Artillery Corps followed. General Perkins was stationed with this branch of the service in the United States, Panama, the Philippines and Hawaii.

He was a graduate of the Coast Artillery School, the Command and General Staff School and the Army War College. He also served as military instructor at West Point.

General Perkins had duty in the office of the Chief of Coast Artillery in Washington, D. C., commanded the 53rd Anti-Aircraft Brigade in Hawaii during World War II, served in the Inspector General's Office, Washington, D. C., and when he retired in 1947 was the Inspector General of the San Francisco Port of Embarkation.

Since his retirement here, General Perkins was an active member of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Survivors are his wife, Mariam P. Perkins of Pebble Beach; two sisters, Mrs. Thom Henderson and Miss Rosa Perkins, both of Virginia, and a niece, Mrs. H. P. Rand of Carmel.

Funeral services with Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating, were held on Monday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Private burial, with full military honors, took place on Tuesday in the Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of General Perkins are asked to do so in the form of donations to their favorite charities.

William James

William C. James, a retired manufacturer, died on Sunday in a local hospital after a long illness. He came to live in Carmel five months ago after many Peninsula visits.

Before Mr. James retired he was associated with the Philadelphia Quartz Company of California. He was born in West Chester, Pennsylvania, on March 23, 1893.

Survivors are his wife, Anna E. James of Carmel; two sons, Edward A. James of Pasadena and Walton C. James of Orinda; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Leavitt of Fresno; two brothers, J. Robert James and Arthur James of Pennsylvania; a sister, Mrs. Loretta Evans of New Jersey; and eight grandchildren.

Private family memorial services were held at Mission Mortuary.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. James are asked to do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Cancer Research Society, Box 1028, Monterey.

CONSTELLATIONS OF THE ZODIAC—CAPRICORN

Capricorn, the Goat with body of a Fish, 22 December to 21 January, the tenth sign of the zodiac, names its month, December. For this was the tenth and final month of the ancient Roman year until Numa (The Lion) succeeded Romulus as King and added January and February about 700 B. C. Janus, two-faced doorkeepers of heaven, names January, looking back at the old year, ahead at the new. The calendar of North African civilizations was carefully based upon the sun, having 12 months or moon periods of 30 days, with five or six added days to celebrate the equinoxes and solstices.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Spiritual understanding of God as divine Truth brings mankind assurance of healing and redemption—this is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural passages will include the account in Luke of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man "which had a spirit of an unclean devil" (4:33-36).

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To understand God strengthens hope, enthrones faith in Truth, and verifies Jesus' word: 'Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world'" (446:20).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name" (86:11).

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

From time to time the American Heritage magazine publishes a large and beautifully illustrated volume. Their most recent publication is called The American Book of the Pioneer Spirit. Filled with pictures in both black and white and in color, this book is one you will find hard to put down long enough to do the things you have to do. This book is pioneering, all the way from early explorations to later day pioneering in social reform, medicine, travel, and invention.

By a coincidence so mere as to make other coincidences seem like real plots, we have two biographies this week about related characters. Almost related, anyway. These two characters are Louise de la Valliere and Louis the Fourteenth. The biography of Louis XIV was written by W. H. Lewis. The biography of his mistress was written by Joan Sanders and entitled La Petite: Louise de la Valliere.

In Friendly Candor is the latest book of Edward Weeks. This is an editor, writing of his friendship with authors and other editors, of techniques in writing, of experiences in editing, of life in general. Another book about writers, editors and their lives is by Sylvia with his sickle of ice, fells evergreens on Midwinter's Day, decks them with the stars of the Old Year for the children, who call him Santa Claus. Jeremiah 10: 1-4 warns against such vain heathen customs. —Howell Armor.

Beach and is entitled Shakespeare and Company. The author was proprietor of a book shop on the Left Bank in Paris in the twenties. The shop was called Shakespeare and Company. There was established the gathering place for the authors who made literary history in those days, Hemingway, Joyce, Sherwood Anderson, Scott Fitzgerald. Miss Beach was the first publisher of Joyce's Ulysses, which was banned in every English speaking country. This is a delightful book.

Margaret Campbell Barnes has another historical romance just published which is called King's Fool. It is the story of Will Somers, who became jester in the court of Henry the Eighth. A good story, well told, as Mrs. Barnes knows so well how to do. Another historical thing by a well known writer is The Queen's Grace by Jan Westcott, and this too is Henry of the many wives. It is the story of the last of them, Katryn Parr. Two good historical novels, out of the eleven we have for you. Three mysteries. The early bird gets the mysteries. A good line-up this week, and we hope you like them.

Jan Van Niel Married

Mr. and Mrs. Jan Van Niel have returned to graduate studies in biology at the University of Washington in Seattle after a California honeymoon following their marriage last month. Mrs. Van Niel has completed her thesis and has only a seminar to give before receiving her master's degree. Her field is cancer research, undertaken at the University of Washington Medical School. Jan is busy with research in zoology and preparing to present his thesis for a master's degree this summer.

Dr. C. B. Van Niel of Carmel and Mrs. Van Niel attended their son's marriage in the Church of Our Savior in Seattle. The Reverend Lester Kinsolving performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, the former Sally Ann Jones, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Jones of Pasco, Washington.

Members of the wedding party were Beth Jones, the bride's sister, the groom's sister Esther (Mrs. Hans A. Went), her son, Kenneth, as ringbearer and Susan Lisk, flower girl. Ushers were Donald Greer and Michael Hadfield. Dr. Went was best man for his brother-in-law.

Miss Enid Larson, former Carmel High School biology teacher, with whom the groom studied for three years, poured at the reception following the marriage as did, also, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mike Greenleaf.

The bride received her early education in the Schools of Longview, Washington, then graduated from Last issue, in head and story on page one, we gave Kiwanis credit for a resolution in support of the county's billboard ordinance. It is Carmel Rotary which deserves recognition for this example of interest in and support of an important conservation issue.

Kiwanis, startled to find themselves credited in this way, are now considering whether or not, under the international law governing their organization, they may pass a similar resolution and make good on the civic virtue we gratuitously assigned to them.

Willamette University. Her husband is a graduate of Carmel High School and Stanford University. His father is Herzstein professor of biology at Hopkins Marine Station in Pacific Grove, a unit of Stanford University.

Martha Susan Sixth Child

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hudson have named their sixth child Martha Susan. She was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on January 11 with a birth weight of six pounds, 13 ounces.

Her grandparents are Rear Admiral and Mrs. L. J. Hudson of Point Lobos and Commodore and Mrs. Howard Benson of Annapolis, Maryland.

Martha Susan's sisters are Peggy, 12, Betsy, ten, and Sarah, six years old. Her brothers are Michael, 13, and Alex, nine.

Mrs. Paca CWC Speaker

Mrs. Lillian Grace Paca, Pacific Grove artist and writer, will exhibit her sketches of Swans at the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2:00 o'clock.

She is listed in Who's Who Of American Women; is a member of Western Artists; of the Carmel Art Association and Santa Cruz Art League.

Mrs. Paca belongs to the National Audubon Society, Nature Conservancy, and is a Charter Member of the National Wildlife Federation.

Her books include Sea-lions and Seals of California and Pelican Personalities, also Introduction to Western Birds.

Mrs. Peter Kutschera and the following committee will serve tea after the meeting; Mrs. Aimee Charleston, Mrs. Isabelle Bird, and Mrs. Eugene Ingalls. At the tea tables, Mrs. Todd E. Rudd, Mrs. Alexander Cleary, Mrs. Lunsbury Castle and Miss Dorothy Peacock will pour.

Democratic Women's Luncheon

The Carmel Democratic Women's Club will have a luncheon meeting on January 28 in Tom's Cafe on Dolores Street at 12:15 o'clock. State Senator Fred Farr will be the speaker. His subject will be What We Can Do To Help In The Coming Legislative Session. Patricia Lane is the new president of the club. Mrs. Frances Anderson, membership chairman, will welcome new members and collect dues for the coming year.

Studios Show Winners

Last week, by popular vote, Mrs. Dee Rundel of Fort Ord won first prize in the Craft Studios Friday art show. She displayed a still life in oils.

Second place was given to Esther Rose of Carmel for the seascape which she entered in the weekly contest.

First place winner Mrs. Rundel has come here from Alaska where she showed her paintings and was awarded prizes.

Organ Society Meets Sunday

The regular monthly meeting of the Monterey County Hammond Organ Society will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Graham on San Juan road in Carmel Woods.

A special program has been arranged featuring ten year old Sandra Wazack, daughter of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Wazack of Fort Ord. She has only been playing the organ for six months. Several other members will assist in the program. Refreshments will be served in the Graham's rumpus room which displays a twenty by eight foot mural painted by local artist, Harold Landaker.

Members may invite guests for this meeting.

March Of Dimes On Sat. - Sun., Mothers' March On January 28

Carmel's annual Mile of Dimes collection for the National Foundation fund drive will take place tomorrow and Saturday, according to James Kelsey, Carmel March of Dimes chairman.

The first dime collected will be placed on the sidewalk in front of the Carmel Crocker-Anglo Bank on Ocean Avenue. The line will continue towards San Carlos Street as more dimes are collected.

On January 28, in the yearly Mother's March for the March of Dimes, Carmel mothers will begin their door-to-door collections at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon. They will also distribute literature urging immunization against polio. Mrs. Martin Glasser, March of Dimes chairman for the Peninsula, points out that there have been three polio cases in the County this year despite the Salk vaccine immunization program of the county health department.

March of Dimes funds this year will be used by the National Foundation for their work and research on arthritis, birth defects and polio.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Twenty-five years ago on January 17, Cynthia Criley of Carmel Highlands and Dr. Russell Dudley Williams were married by Judge George L. Wood in the old upstairs Carmel city hall on Dolores Street. On Sunday they celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Members of the original wedding group who attended the Williams' silver wedding anniversary party on Saturday evening were Mrs. Valentine Mott Porter of Big Sur and Mrs. Florence Erskine Gantner of San Francisco. Mrs. Williams' brother, Theodore Criley of Claremont, also present at the wedding, and Mrs. Criley telephoned their congratulations during the evening and another telephone call came from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel James of Los Angeles.

Guests invited to the anniversary party were Mrs. D. L. James, Mrs. David O'Neil, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Manor, Dr. and Mrs. Talcott Bates, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Morris, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sato, Dr. and Mrs. James Niebel, Mrs. Valentine Miller, Alison and Andrew Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Balesteri, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arcoleo, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Flavin, Philip MacDougal, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Short, Mrs. Marie Short, Jake Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton and Melissa Lofton, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Doner and Tasha Doner, Mr. and Mrs. John Truesdell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Price, Mr. and Mrs. John Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Glenn Minshall, Flavia Flavin, Senator and Mrs. Fred Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Criley, Philip O'Shea, Mike Glover, Dennis Peavey, Leon Sarazoso and Robert Nash.

John, Honey and Molly Williams helped their parents greet the guests. Unable to be present were the Williams' daughter, Marian (Mrs. Ben Chaffey) of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and their son, Richard, who is traveling in Europe.

Earlier in the day, Molly, the Williams' youngest daughter, who was born on her parents' wedding anniversary, had a fourth birthday luncheon party. Her guests were Teddy, Don and Megan Criley, Penny and Joe Nesbitt and Melissa Lofton. Unwinding a giant spider web occupied the group. This was Molly's second birthday party. On Friday her guests were Lora Lowrie, Naomi Beth Marcus, Lee Price and Laurie Harbert who travel to Carmel-Parent Nursery School with Molly in a car pool.

Dr. and Mrs. Williams recalling their wedding 25 years ago, laughing remark that they never have received their marriage certificate. After the ceremony Judge Wood asked, "What is your address?"

Dr. Williams replied "One hundred and sixty-eighth Street."

"Not in Carmel!" exclaimed Judge Wood.

The Williams left for a honeymoon at the Trails Club, now Nepenthe, then went to New York. They wonder where the certificate is.

Colonel Bestor Honored

A release from Headquarters, United Nations Command, U. S. Forces Korea, Eighth Army Command in Seoul, states that Lieutenant Colonel Richard Judson Bestor recently was awarded the Army Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for meritorious service as Chief, Combat Arms Branch, and as Army Liaison Officer at the U. S. Army Chemical Corps School, Fort McClellan, Alabama. He held this position from 1956-1959.

On October 29, Colonel Bestor flew from San Francisco to his new duty in Korea. Earlier in the month he brought Mrs. Bestor and his daughters, Janice, 16, Stephanie, 13, and Elizabeth, seven years old, to live in Carmel. They will occupy their home on Sycamore Place until Colonel Bestor returns to this country next November.

Lieutenant General Emery S. Wetzel, Chief of Staff, United Nations Command, made the award to Colonel Bestor in ceremonies in Seoul.

Daniel Kent Born

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kent (Janie Brandon) have a son, Daniel, who was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on January 10. His father is the leader of the Kent folksinging group on the Peninsula. Daniel's grandfather is writer William Brandon of Carmel.

Dr. Berne Back From Russia

Breakfast in New York, lunch in San Francisco, late afternoon on Carmel beach occupied Dr. Eric Berne's time last Sunday. He has just returned from a month's traveling in Russia, Finland, Sweden and Switzerland, with a stopover in New York on the return trip.

Asked if he planned to take his accustomed swim in the ocean, he replied, "I've got to warm up first. Carmel has the only good weather in the United States today."

Commissioner Ricketts' Record

Forest Commissioner Gene Ricketts has established a record for community service. On Monday morning at 4:00 o'clock he left Carmel to drive to a job in Oakland, worked all day, drove back here for the forest commission meeting in the evening, then left Carmel again at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday morning to drive to work in Palo Alto.

Mr. Ricketts is a former Carmel City Councilman.

Mrs. Doner Surprised

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Mrs. Rosa Doner came home from her work as director of the Carmel Parent-Nursery School and was surprised by a group of friends. They hid in the kitchen until Mrs. Doner opened her front door, then emerged singing Happy Birthday and had brought with them a surprise birthday luncheon. Those who prepared the party were Mrs. James Niebel, Mrs. John Short, Mrs. John Truesdell, Mrs. Valentine Miller, Mrs. Russell Williams and John and Molly Williams.

Parks, Mrs. Rudolph ver Mehr Jr., Mrs. L. W. Klene, Mrs. Don King III, Mrs. Dudley Sanford, Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni, Mrs. Howard Monroe, Mrs. Herbert Alward, Mrs. Robert M. Brown, Mrs. Claire W. Sims and Mrs. Alfred Balsam.

Republican Women To Meet

The annual meeting of the Carmel Republican Women's Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Stanton in Carmel Valley. The election of officers and directors for 1960 will take place during the afternoon.

Members are asked to note the change in time from 2:00 o'clock as announced in the club's newsletter. The hospitality chairmen will appreciate a response from any person planning to be present.

Mrs. Thomas Perry will be in charge of the tea following the meeting. She will be assisted by Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, Mrs. James

Crosby Tournament Parties

Small home gatherings, large cocktail parties, luncheons, dinners and dancing will occupy Crosby Tournament players and visitors this weekend.

The Beach Club will open a new room overlooking the Pebble Beach Golf Links and Stillwater Cove for dinner dancing tomorrow and Saturday evenings. There will be a dinner dance at Del Monte Lodge Saturday night.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Harris will be introduced to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Snideman. The Snidemans, from Chicago, are occupying the Francis I. Brown house on Jack's Peak during the Crosby. The Hopes and Harris are their house guests.

Tomorrow evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton will entertain for their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lent Hooker and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, also the Snidemans, Hopes and Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Pedley and Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery are staying in Carmel with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Madison. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Castle are giving a cocktail party for Crosby visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Firestone of Beverly Hills have opened their Pebble Beach home for the tournament. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Booth of Beverly Hills are guests of Mrs. Booth's mother, Mrs. Edna McNaghten.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaaf of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Harris of Fresno are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Buzn. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton S. Stewart are having a buffet supper this evening for Mr. Stewart's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William P. Stewart of Alabama and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hazeltine of Pasadena.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Jon Konigshofer gave a party at the Tennis Ranch for tournament visitors. Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. Cary Middlecoff, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. James Hatlo, Mrs. J. Ralph Hammonds and Dr. Ray Brownell.

Occupying their Peninsula homes for the tournament are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Notkoff of Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. Claire V. Goodwin of San Francisco. Mrs. Henry Potter Russell is bringing a group of San Francisco friends to stay at her Carmel Valley Ranch.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne will have their annual open house party during tournament finals. The affair will be held in the President's House at Del Monte Lodge. The same day Mr. and Mrs. James Hatlo will also hold open house in their home above the thirteenth hole of Pebble Beach Course.

Ruth Cooke Back Yesterday

Mrs. Ruth Hill Cooke arrived home yesterday morning from an Eastern trip which began before the holidays.

She spent Christmas in Virginia near Washington, D. C., with her niece, Mrs. Dan Alexander, and Mr. Alexander. They were preparing to live in Santiago, Chile, Mr. Alexander's new assignment with the U. S. Foreign Service.

In New York, Mrs. Cooke visited Kevin Wallace and his family in Westchester. Wallace, former Carmelite, is a member of the editorial staff of the New Yorker. His mother is Mrs. Margaret Wallace of Carmel.

Mrs. Cooke visited art galleries in Washington and New York and saw shows. "Not much time for music this trip," she regrets.

Hammond Organ Club Officers

New officers of the Monterey Peninsula Hammond Organ Club are Mrs. H. D. Winingar, president; Mrs. M. A. Bengston, vice president; and Albert T. Gonsalves, secretary-treasurer. They were elected at a meeting on Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raynaldo Garcia.

Following the business meeting, Neil Armstrong directed the group in a series of musical charades. Each participant acted out a song title and played the selection on the chord organ. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Winingar and Mrs. Garcia.

The next meeting of the club will be on February 21 at Fairgrounds Hall, King City. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barnett will be hosts.

Mrs. Hall Tours Mexico

Mrs. Patricia Hall left Wednesday for a month's tour of Mexico by bus. Vincent Scappator will occupy her house while she is away.

At Lions Convention

Carmel Lions Club delegates to the Mid-Winter Convention in Santa Monica this weekend are Mike Balazs, Ernest Bixler, Dr. William F. Coughlin, and George Dear.

On Tuesday evening Lion Milton Stitt introduced Robert Smith of the S. F. K. drug firm to club members. Mr. Smith spoke to the group on present-day costs of medications and research work. He is authorized by the Pharmaceutical Association to speak to service groups on the two subjects.

Jonathan Ursino Second Son

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ursino have named their second son, Jonathan Thomas. His first name is the same as his maternal grandfather's, Colonel Jonathan Rigdon of Richland, Washington, and also of his uncle Jonathan Rigdon of Richland. Thomas was the name of his mother's older brother.

The baby weighed six pounds, seven ounces, when he was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on January 13. He has a brother, Christopher. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Agatino Ursino of Monterey.

Colonel and Mrs. Rigdon plan to come to Carmel in May following Colonel Rigdon's retirement from active duty with the Army Medical Corps. They purchased a house here during the time Colonel Rigdon was stationed on the Peninsula and plan to make it their permanent home.

Arena Blanca Poets Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Arena Blanca Chapter of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets was held on January 13 at the Church of the Wayfarer.

President Olivia Young announced that the chapter's Christmas poem contest winners were Nancy Provasco, first; Berenice Minarik, second; Blanche Moke, third.

Olive Beidleman and Robert Bunney provided the refreshments. Hascal Stewart presided at the tea table.

FOREST COMMISSION SETS NEW TIME FOR MEETINGS

Forest Commissioners met on Monday evening to arrange a new meeting time. They decided on the first Tuesday evening of each month, 7:30 o'clock, in City Hall.

Next month the group will elect a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. Forest Commission members are Herbert Blanks, Gene Ricketts, Charles Myrick, Robert Strum and Frank Lloyd.

sory to this garage. His client is Leslie C. Fenton, Plaza developer. The garage, with attendant parking, would provide off-street space for as many cars as can be parked on Ocean Avenue from Junipero to Monte Verde Street. The economics of the parking garage were that the facility needed a tenant commensurate to the development such as the prospective oil business tenant that insisted on a gas station. The gas pumps, because of location, would not be a threat to existing gas stations. The facility would "serve as a boon and a blessing" to the business district.

Fenton continued by stating that the argument that the granting of a service station at the Plaza would defeat the Carmel plan was superficial. No other such development as the Fenton Plaza, providing such magnitude of parking, could be remotely conceived for Carmel. The gas station therefore would not create a loophole or precedent for other stations in the C-1 district, zoned against gas stations. The gas pumps should be allowed for the interests of the community.

Thomas Montgomery, speaking for gas station operator Dale Leidig, next took the floor. He asked planning commissioners to decide whether or not a two-story parking garage was legal in the C-1 zone before considering gas pumps as an accessory use to a garage. In the zoning ordinance he found no parking garage mentioned.

This placed commissioners, said Montgomery, in the position of deciding about the gas pumps according to the government of law or the government of man.

"If you decide apart from the law, you are establishing a dangerous precedent," Montgomery said. He referred to the fact that gas stations in C-1 zone are not permitted in the Carmel zoning ordinance. He also contended that the arguments of Carmel householders were entitled to respect irrespective of business interests.

He then cited four existing parking lots provided by four Carmel businesses and said that each of these might demand accessory oil stations if the Plaza pumps were permitted. An oil firm bigger than the proposed Plaza tenant (Union Oil) might come in. Dilapidated buildings could be torn down in the business district and developments such as the Fenton Plaza come to Carmel, Montgomery pointed out. He concluded by asking commissioners to consider carefully the factors of the city council's denial of gas pumps for a previous integrated block development of Fenton Plaza. The two-story detached parking garage structure now proposed at the Fenton Plaza made these factors stronger, he emphasized.

George Walker, representing the Leidigs and Mrs. Gould, said that he agreed with Montgomery in respect to whether or not a parking garage was proper in C-1 zone. In the code only parking lots were included. He wanted decisions to be made in respect to the fact that Carmel was a residential community as stated in the general plan. The former action of the city council in denying Fenton Plaza pumps should be considered. The planning commission should be guided by the previous decision of the city council which acted as an appellate group for the citizens. Applications in the past for gas stations in the Fenton Plaza vicinity had been denied. The Fenton Plaza garage developers were attempting to have what had been turned down in the past. They owned a whole block. Should this be an advantage over the owner of one or two lots, Walker asked commissioners.

He said it was not improbable other interests might buy blocks in Carmel. The planning commission might then have to face a similar decision about an accessory use like the Fenton pumps. He thought if there were any doubt in decisions, what was attractive to the citizens and not commercial purposes should be the deciding factor. "The integrity of the zoning ordinance is important. The power and authority of the planning commission is well established to preserve the ordinance in a proper manner. The citizens rely on the zoning law," Walker said. This law should be properly interpreted, Walker continued, and a use prohibited in the code should not be brought in under any circumstances."

In respect to Fenton's economic feasibility plea for the gas pumps as accessory use to the garage, Walker pointed out that other large commercial uses might ask for accessory uses and gave as example a motel asking for a restaurant or cocktail lounge. A "Pandora's box" situation was before the commission, he concluded.

Commissioner Herbert Blanks said that he felt the Fenton Plaza accessory use gas pump situation was of great concern to the citizens. He wanted time "to sleep on it" before reaching a decision. The other commissioners agreed.

Cunningham To Have One-Man Show At Villa Montalvo

Oil paintings by contemporary artist and educator John Cunningham of Carmel will feature the February gallery exhibit at Villa Montalvo, at Saratoga. Examples of his distinctive style in the use of planes of light in his paintings will hang in the main art gallery.

There also will be on display a collection of bookplates designed and carved by some of the most gifted artists and engravers of Europe, Australia and the United States.

The bookplate exhibit, part of a growing collection belonging to Sister Mary Austin of the College of Holy Names in Los Gatos, will occupy glass cases in the gallery and in the library in the mansion of the late U. S. Senator James D. Phelan.

On Sunday afternoon, February 7 from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock, there will be a public reception and tea sponsored by Montalvo Service

Francisco, the new Episcopal Home for the rehabilitation of alcoholic men.

The Battle of the Cross is an enlargement of the Three Hours Devotions which Fr. Sandercock gave on Good Friday, 1958. One of his hearers was so impressed by their beauty, sincerity and courage that she urged him to make them into a book for Lenten and Holy Week reading. The manuscript was accepted by the first publisher to whom it was offered, a fairly rare experience for a beginning author.

The Episcopal Church Women (late the Women's Auxiliary) of St. James' will serve light refreshments.

Group. Cunningham will talk on the subject of art and give a demonstration of technique in creating his contemporary style in his paintings.

Born in New Jersey in 1906, Cunningham now lives in Carmel, arriving in California in the early 1930s. He paints and teaches in his own school of art. Previously he studied in Paris and Munich, and taught in Cranbrook Academy in Michigan and at Mills College at Oakland.

A director of the Carmel Art Institute and member of Sculptor's Guild, Cunningham also is a mural painter, designer and arts coordinator, and has exhibited his work throughout the U. S. and abroad.

The public is welcome to the reception and exhibit Sunday. On other days of the week, except Monday, Villa Montalvo is open free of charge from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

CARMEL COTTAGE COURT

AAA SAYS "DELIGHTFUL"

Set among the trees and gardens is Carmel Cottage Court—a unique cottage motel with a variety of separate and individual cottages—each with a charm of its own and reminiscent of the original Carmel atmosphere.

The individual cottages are from one to three bedrooms—most with completely equipped kitchens—a few with fireplaces—carports for your car. This can be your vacation home with privacy and quiet minus the annoying closeness of neighbors.

No stairs to climb, no one over or under you, nor do you have to park on the street . . . we have lots of "off street parking" at your cottage, space for your extra car, too —

Reservations are advisable, our rates are moderate, should we have a vacancy, we would be glad to show you, and quote rates.

Rates on request if you will be kind enough to state exactly the number in your party and the length of time you wish to stay. Stop in and see us anytime you may be passing through. If we can assist you in any way we will be most happy to do so.
